Editorial Mother's Day

By Hattie Ingram

Sunday, May 13, 2007 is Mother's Day. This is what we think of when we think of Mother's Day — moms, happy moms; brand new to motherhood and dazzled by the new experience. Moms pushing toddlers in strollers, or later standing encouragingly beside the slides or swimming pool edges, or later still paling in the malls with their daughters or yelling from the sidelines at their sons little league games. Moms also smile with pride at graduations and weddings in their best attire. And finally, older moms, vital and handsome, faces marked by generous lives, arms around their midlife children, a grandchild or two now added to the picture.

Mother's Day is day the we join others throughout the world as we honor the women who gave us birth and non-biological mothers who daily nurture and pray for us.

We honor the ministry of mothers. Mothers are special. They guide and lead us. Mothers of the church are noble persons of authority and understanding. We look to them for wisdom and spiritual teaching. Mothers have offered hundreds of intercessory prayers, soothed thousands of fevers, made or selected countless Mother's Day outfits and baked dozens of cookies for Vacation Bible School.

Mothers have passed on folk wisdom, given advice, learned when to keep silent, and helped rear grandchildren. Mothers love the Lord and walk by faith.

For those of us who are still blessed with mothers and those of us who are not, let us remember as we send that Hallmark card, or lay that single rose on her tombstone, that "Most of all the other beautiful things in life come by twos and threes, by dozens and hundreds. Plenty of roses, stars, sunsets, rainbows, brothers and sisters, aunts and cousins, but only one mother in the whole world."—Kate Wiggin

Macho Men And Stubborn Women Subject of Message

By Diane Piggott

Rev. Moses L. Edwards, Pastor of Ephesus Seventh-Day Adventist Church, used "Macho Men and Stubborn Women" for his message's subject at the 60th Observance of Men's Day at New Bethel Baptist Church at 11 a.m. on Sunday, April 15, 2007. He also commented, "If I Step on some toes, it's not me, it's God!" Mr. Ronald Wilkins acted as worship leader. The men used as a theme, "Christian Men Empowered By God to Make a Difference."

Rev. Edwards admitted being in a quandary about what message to give. He remarked that he excluded a message on David, Joseph and even dismissed considering a message about Samson. He said, "My mind went all the way back to a group, "The Village People" and a song by the legendary great late James Brown and a song of his entitled, "It's A Man's World," but even he added, "But it wouldn't be nothing without a woman or a girl." "Men," began Edwards, "We must affirm that men wouldn't be who they are without a woman or a girl!" We see this in Genesis 2:21 and 22.

His message brought out many truths: "The world is no place for battering women for women are the mortar that holds everything together. The church can be no better than the homes. Religion doesn't start in the church; it starts at home. Your mom and dad should teach you the words of God. Divorce is higher than it's ever been and it's rising among Christians. There is a certain respect that a man needs to show to his woman. God never meant for man to have dominion over our women. Genesis says God gave man dominion over the fish, birds of the air, fowls and creeping things. I don't know any women that creep or fly. Ladies are special! Where would we be if our women didn't step up and keep the family together? If you want to be a "macho man," take care of the house and the woman God gave you. When we destroy the family, it destroys the church. Men, If you want your wife to submit to you, you must submit to God. "Macho men" walk as God. 2 Corinthians 15 tells us we must learn to LOVE. Husbands, when you do right by the women, they have no trouble honoring you at home. When she's happy, she is not a "stubborn" woman. We need good men to set

VBS Takes a Second Look at Family Reunions

By Diane Piggott

Vacation Bible School (VBS) will convene on June 11-15, 2007 and finish off a 10-day unit that was begun in 2006. The theme to be continued is "The Jesus Family Reunion" from Urban Ministries, Inc. The school will open each evening at 6 p.m. with a repast followed by classes for all ages beginning at 6:45 p.m.

Jesus is the great unifier of families so let's make VBS a family affair. You'll enjoy the week!

Youth Corner

NAIKESHA POE-SMITH
YOUTH REPORTER

It's Time (To Have a Talk with Jesus)

By Naikeesha Poe-Smith

I was asked to make the youth presentation for Sunday, April 8, 2007. The youth's theme this year is simply "It's Time." It's a short theme, but it provides youth presenters with a lot of personal thoughts and response. My response to this theme comes from my own personal experience. So, my presentation on that Sunday was "It's Time (To Have a Little Talk with Jesus)!"

My family and teachers know that I have struggled with math this year because of the requirements set by the state's EOG exam. I have struggled to understand some of the terminology and formulas. My family has helped me tremendously with tutors in school and outside of school. At one point I was getting frustrated with all of the tutoring. My family told me that they pray for my understanding, but that I need to also ask God for understanding for myself. So, I do.

Sometimes you feel that teachers don't care, but some of them really do. One day a teacher at my school gave me a book titled Jesus Bible. She addressed it to me, autographed it and told me to read Psalms 91. The Psalm talks about how God will rescue and protect those who love Him, and that HE will answer prayers. God does answer prayers. He let me know that others do care about my progress

On April 17, 2007 my teacher gave me praise in front of the class for being one of two students who made an A on my math quiz. That made me feel great! "It was my time!"

the example!" "Men," he admonished, "We need to make a commitment to treat her with love, respect and care. Don't let her see a stranger on Sunday!" He closed with prayer in which he asked men to be "men of God" and "more like Jesus."

The Men's day celebration was a very spiritually uplifting event. Pastor Jones remarked, "The choir was 'awesome!'" due to their courageous actions and quick wit to administer (CPR/First Aid to him when he fell unconscious following a coronary episode just at the conclusion of the business meeting being held on a warm summer morning.

These gentlemen are very active at New Bethel and share some of the same ministries at the church in addition to being trustees. They both sing with the Spiritual Choir and Communion Singers, are members of the Laymen's League and Sunday School of the church.

Trustee Bankhead is a native of Hickory Grove, South Carolina (Near York). Duke Power, now Duke Energy in 1984, transferred him to Winston-Salem. After repeated visits to New Bethel and other churches, he joined where his late uncle and aunt, Wardell and Pearl Bankhead were members. He is now a Scheduling Specialist with Duke Energy after 27 years with the company. A demanding schedule with Duke and his dedicated service to New Bethel leaves little time except maybe a night of bowling to support the Big Brothers/Big Sisters organization.

Trustee Lucas is a native of Trinity and united with New Bethel in 1995. He holds a B.A. degree in Sociology from Livingstone College in Salisbury. He is presently Deputy Fire Chief of the Winston-Salem Fire Department where he is in his twenty-seventh year of employment. He's been deputy Fire Chief for the past 9 years. He is married to the former Deronda Kee and they have two sons, Stephawn and John, III.

In the community, Trustee Lucas has worked with Big Brothers/Big Sisters, Junior Achievement, March of Dimes and the United Way.

At New Bethel, Lucas is Chairman of the Medical Emergency Response Team. He also conducts the 11 a.m. devotion on Sundays.

The Men's Day Committee admitted that it was extremely difficult to pick just one of them and name a single "Man of the Year" for they, both had jumped into the save and rescue mode when our beloved pastor of 62 years became ill at the meeting. Dr. Drayton applauded the Selection process and remarked, "I am and will be eternally grateful that they were at the meeting and possessed the skills that they possess that were instrumental in saving my life. The doctors admitted to me that if it were not for their quick action I would not be here today!"

TRUSTEE JAMES BROWN
PERSONNEL COMMITTEE CHAIR

Personnel Committee Addressing Needs Of Church Staff

By Carolyn Crosby

The Personnel Committee of New Bethel Baptist Church is currently reviewing job descriptions for all paid employees of New Bethel Baptist Church. This committee was appointed in July of 2006 by Dr. Jerry Drayton. Trustee James Brown serves as the chairperson of the committee. Other committee members are Ms. Audrey Brown, Deacon Douglas Joyner, Trustee John Lucas, and Trustee Carolyn Crosby.

The committee is responsible for the recommendation of hiring of all paid positions at New Bethel. They work closely with Pastor Jones in the interviewing and hiring of vacancies of staff for the church. They are currently reviewing and revising all job descriptions for consistency and to ensure all responsibilities are clearly defined.

The committee will also be implementing a room reservation form that will be used when persons wish to use facilities at the church. This will enable the staff to have the rooms set up in a timely manner and cleaned after usage. A diagram of the Drayton Fellowship Hall and Multipurpose Room has been designed so persons can provide a layout for their event.

MR. STEVEN THORNTON
MINISTERS WITH MUSIC

Making a Joyful Noise Unto the Lord

By Brenda Redd

It's the call of all Christians to take the Good News to the world they live in and Steve Thornton delivers the Good News by way of his sax.

Since second grade Mr. Steve Thornton, a devoted lifelong member of our church, has loved and played the saxophone. Recently, he has come to share his God given talent as saxophonist for the New Bethel Baptist Church choirs. His musical accompaniment has added another dimension to songs of praise and worship; lending a beautiful peacefulness that compliments the musical team and fills our sanctuary on Sunday mornings.

During a recent interview, I asked Mr. Thornton how he came to incorporate the sax into songs of praise and worship. He proudly stated "I've always wanted to play and I've always had the desire to play in our morning worship service. In fact, I felt that God placed it in my heart. Our job as Christians is to take the Good News to our area of influence and share that good news." Therefore, and without hesitation, he is sharing the blessings God has bestowed upon him. "I see it as an opportunity to minister in music. Others may feel the spirit more through the word. I feel like I am also ministering God's word by providing music to our congregation." Thornton plays soprano, alto, and tenor saxophone as well as the flute. He is the son of Deacon and Mrs. Thomas Thornton.

Ushers in New Attire

By Diane Piggott

New Bethel's Lady Ushers have emerged during the last few months in stunning new white two-piece suits and a three-piece navy suit which includes a navy silk shell. The ladies look very professional as they carry out their ushering duties on the first Sundays. Mrs. Alenia Sligh is vice president of the Lady Ushers.

The position of usher is very important in setting the tone of the worship service. As the first person a member or visitor sees as he or she enters for worship, it's so very important to project the right attitude. Pictured here are: (front row) Ms. Valjean McKinney, Mrs. Bonnie Moorman, Mrs. Awilda Neal, Mrs. Jeanette Hatcher, (second row) Ms. Beverly Brown, Mrs. Barbara Smith, Ms. Rosa Rice, Mrs. Dessie Wilson; (top) Mrs. Alenia Sligh, Ms. Geneva Wright and Mrs. Brenda Witherspoon.
